Volume LXVII, Issue 67

August 2021

From the DIRECTOR'S DESK

"Education is our passport to the future, for tomorrow belongs to the people who prepare for it today."

– Malcolm X

Quality education is vital for every individual to move ahead and achieve success in life. Edification not only develops self-confidence in us but also helps in building our personality. Education enables us to undertake challenges in life and empowers us with qualities to innovate and carve a niche for ourselves.

School education plays a substantial role in everyone's life. A child should go through various levels of schooling, elementary, primary, secondary, higher secondary, etc, to ensure a prosperous future. All levels of education have their own special significance and place. Every parent envisions their wards at the summit of glory which is possible only through appropriate and befitting school education. The very foundation of Scottish High was laid with this aim in mind and we guarantee our parents that the school will leave no stone unturned to offer the best to our pupils.

Schools play a crucial role in moulding the lives of our youngsters. The cozy and warm atmosphere that the teachers and staff of Scottish High provide to the students, never let them miss their homes. Highlanders look forward to visiting school every morning, to meet friends and get involved in curricular as well as co-curricular activities that enhances their development and boosts their personality. Students learn social and interpersonal skills that help them connect with people and elevate their personal life.

Meticulous guidance and support by proficient and qualified teachers, whether it is in the classrooms or on the field, strengthens the educator-pupil bond and teaches them valuable life lessons. Rigorous mentoring and supervision by these able instructors of Scottish High, help students to effectively hone and harness their latent talents and hobbies. With small class sizes and hence more individual attention from teachers, students develop a greater sense of self-esteem and get ample opportunities to shine out. Above all, children learn moral values that qualify them to become warm-hearted and considerate global individuals.

A child steps out of the comfort and security of home to venture into another haven that promises equally safe and hygienic environment for the students. Scottish High provides adequate educational infrastructures that maximizes the accessibility and effectiveness of education being delivered. This undoubtedly has a positive bearing on the attendance and performance of students.

Efficacious learning and education acquired in schools bring a sea of change in our young impressionable minds who become adult citizens of tomorrow. Education brings home a lot more than just degrees and monetary success. It is the basic necessity of human beings and we should comprehend that it is the only key to well-rounded development and progressive thought processes.

Redefining Role of Teachers as Facilitators and Mentors

"True teachers are those who help us think for ourselves"

– Dr Sarvepalli Radha Krishnan

At Scottish High, the students are not consumers of facts. They are dynamic learners and creators of knowledge because we encourage them to become lifelong learners. The attributes of the IB Learner Profile, which the students inculcate along with their mentors, help them to seek knowledge through wondering and wandering. Our teachers are facilitators of not only knowledge but they are a tool through which students comprehend social and cultural heritage of their peers and themselves. International mindedness is a concept embedded in our curriculum which paves the path towards adopting global citizenship at a young age.

When we are with our students we ensure that the focus is on student centered, inquiry based technologically charged learning environment. We prepare them for challenges they will face in real life situations, therefore our role as mentors is as vital as ever. We consciously look at our role as co-constructors of knowledge and a facilitator that guides and activates student learning. We foster the necessary skills to succeed in today's rapidly changing world.

We are not a sage on the stage but a guide on the side. We deliberately create learning experiences and learning environment that allow students to become active participants in all the engagements planned to advance their knowledge and skills. The assessments are designed in such a way that the students get ample of opportunities to display their understanding in a variety of ways. This requires important teaching skills on our part, such as guiding effective student learning, fostering strong collaboration during teaching and learning. We continuously reimagine and reorganize our planning to ensure that we are up to date with the latest pedagogy which are required for the students to become global achievers.

We at Scottish High believe in the below quote wholeheartedly:

"The task of the excellent teacher is to stimulate "apparently ordinary" people to unusual effort. The tough problem is not in identifying winners: it is in making winners out of ordinary people." – K. Patricia Cross

The online classes didn't dampen the spirits of our young Highlanders while celebrating the 75th Independence Day of our nation. The week was marked with interesting engagements; delving into the significance of the day and the tri-colours representing the Indian Flag, the learners were seen making the National Flag, designing a Tiranga sandwich, learning about the National symbols and more with much gusto. Learning a patriotic song and dancing to the tune of 'Jai Ho' had the students revel in national pride. Coming dressed up as National Leaders and Freedom Fighters using innovative attire added to the patriotic fervour, befitting the occasion, during the virtual session. Slogans like 'Vande Mataram', 'Jai Hind' resonated in the virtual classes with the young ones displaying appreciation and pride for their country and countrymen. The young learners also indulged in expressing their feelings on patriotism and voicing their perspective on- 'What freedom means to them?' Their anecdotes ranging from speaking freely, going anywhere where their heart desires to, to wanting freedom from face masks and Corona. Let us all pray that this Independence Day we all steadfastly achieve this and get freedom from the Pandemic!

To celebrate the special bond between siblings, the festival of Raksha Bandhan was celebrated virtually. Symbolic of this festival, a talk and its significance was brought forth with emphasis on the love between siblings. In Primary, our young Highlanders wore ethnic clothes to celebrate the festival. They also sang songs related to the festival and enjoyed doing a related craft and shared their beautiful creation with enthusiasm. Workshop on 'Plantable Rakhi Making' by a parent of a Kindergarten student was an engaging and an enriching experience wherein the students learnt how to celebrate the festival in an eco-friendly way; by making plantable seed Rakhis' which can be sowed after the celebration, nurtured and see it grow from a seed into a beautiful plant. An initiative like this also encouraged the children to plant a sapling!

"Recognize that every interaction you have is an opportunity to make positive impact on others."

The Early Years had a PTM on Saturday, 14th August, 2021. The interaction with the parents proved to be fruitful. The Home Room Tutors' took this as an opportunity to collaborate with the parents to discuss the well-being of the students as also their overall progress. In Primary Wing we had Gallery Walk on 21st August. Gallery Walk is a platform for Highlanders to showcase their communication and thinking skills. Our young learners took pride in showcasing their confidence and family bond during the virtual Gallery Walk, where they in collaboration with their family members conducted a synchronized presentation of their family song. Children were happy to share the story behind the song chosen. It instilled in our little students the importance of family love, bonding and connection.

Through small actions, everyone can make an impact...

An IB Programme develops Internationally Minded people who, while recognizing the common humanity and shared guardianship of the planet, help to create a better and more peaceful world. The International week was celebrated by the PYP students from Grade Nursery to Grade 5 virtually this year too with zest. To create an intercultural experience, the young learners of Early Years delved into the story 'Whoever You Are' and a song 'Hello to the Children of the World' and other stories with emphasis on IB Learner Profile, all through which they discovered an enriching connection between cultures. Furthermore, they were encouraged to prepare an International dish of their choice with a family member and present it during their online class with emphasis on the country the dish belongs, the reason for choosing a particular dish and the ingredients that went into its making. It surely made for an exciting and a culturally enriching session.

In Primary Wing it was celebrated by the Highlanders with much gusto, and pride of being a part of the global family. They took up the language challenge and proved beyond doubt that they are indeed internationally minded. Keeping in mind 'Agency' they chose a language unfamiliar to them, picked up two words that appealed to them most, explaining their meanings in English and taking ownership of their video performance. An introduction to the currencies of certain nations gave the knowledgeable learners an impetus to inquire further and display their skills in identifying the currencies from across the globe. Students also researched about Olympics 2021 games and their winners and represented through medal tally chart. The International Week celebrations culminated with poster making on the attributes of the IB Learner Profile that the children developed during the course of their learning journey. The International Week celebrations created open-minded learners, who truly accept, respect and understand others both locally and globally, making them global citizens.

"Teaching is more than imparting knowledge: it is inspiring change."
- William Arthur

Grade 1 learners, have been inquiring about good choices and bad choices which leads to wellness and sickness. Under the Transdisciplinary Theme 'Who we are'. To enhance their knowledge and inquisitive nature, guest speakers were invited to support their research. Among the guest visitors were parents and doctors, who spoke about physical and mental wellbeing.

Our young students applied their thinking skills and asked relevant and effective questions and fulfilled their curiosity. Tuning into the unit 'How we organize ourselves', the young Highlanders of Grade II were exposed to a variety of live insights and experiences of guest visitors. A variety of processes were discussed ranging from the journey of a toy, a book, a chocolate and the story of Roti to understanding the production and distribution of various food items from farm to plate. The excitement was palpable as children had an array of questions for our visitors. The interactions helped spark curiosity amongst the children and they became true inquirers.

SAFETY FIRST IS SAFETY ALWAYS!

With an endeavour to create self-awareness amongst the students, a workshop was conducted for the students for the Early Years. Through the Online platform, a dialogue about safe and informed practices was initiated along with a discussion about one's safety circle. As educators it is our responsibility to create a safe and a nurturing environment for the students so that they can continue with their journey of exploration and learning without a sense of fear and inhibition. This interactive session surely helped in sensitizing the children about their personal safety.

SCOTTISH HIGH INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL MODEL UNITED NATIONS 2021 aka SHISMUN '21

"It only takes one voice, at the right pitch to start an avalanche."
- Diana Hardy

Scottish High International School organised the sixth overall, and second online, edition of its annual two-day Model United Nations conference on 21st and 22nd August, 2021. SHISMUN '21, in collaboration with the United Nations High Commission for Refugees, hosted about 240 delegates, from both India and abroad, in nine committees. Living up to the high standards set by its predecessors, SHISMUN '21 was flawlessly organised and marvellously executed, owing to the hard work of the Secretariat, the Organising Committee and the immense support the school personnel and teachers provided over the months spent in preparation leading up to the conference.

The delegates were welcomed in an address by the honourable School Chairman, Dr. Cdr. Kartikay Saini. Scottish High has always believed that the purpose of education is to develop well-rounded individuals with a spirit of inquiry and perseverance. To that end, the school strives in fostering intellectual development in its students by combining various types of learning. This attitude was also reflected in SHISMUN '21, as the Chairman exemplified in his speech.

SHISMUN '21, true to the spirit of the previous editions, was organised entirely by the Highlanders themselves. SHISMUN '21 stood apart for a plethora of reasons, such as its innovative agendas that covered a variety of social and political issues that are of importance in the current age, the experienced Executive Board members and sponsorships whose goals aligned with the vision of SHISMUN '21.

The closing ceremony was held virtually on 22nd August, 2021. The two days of the conference were filled with remarkable levels of debate, tough negotiations and great resolutions. The Executive Board members who have been a part of SHISMUN in previous editions expressed their awe at the consistency of SHISMUN as a conference over the years.

The delegates were awarded for their participation and achievements in the conference. E-certificates and cash prizes were sent to the winners by mail. ## From Our Budding Writers

This is the day,
This is the day,
The day we got our independence,
Hip Hip Huray!!
Many diligent people helped the cause,
Independence wasn't easy to get,
Mahatma Gandhi Ji deserves applause.
Every day, we do things without any precincts,
Have a right to move, talk and play,
Now, what they did feels distinct,
If they were not there, we would be extinct.
Saffron, white and green,
These 3 colours make us proud,
Don't forget, the Ashoka Chakra that we have all seen.
Mahatma Gandhi Ji, Stood up for India,
Everybody still stayed down,
He encouraged them, this is no trivia.
We should celebrate this day with all our enthusiasm,
Respect the people, who made this day possible,
On this day, new flowers of learning should blossom,
With Emotion, I am over come.
Love your nation,
And, if the day ever comes,
Remember, Fight with all you have,
Because if we do this, then only we will have no obligations.

Our Mysterious Universe

By Palash Majumdar

Our Mysterious Universe - fascinates me each day...

So much to learn, so much to see,
So many unknowns, but where is the Key...

So much unforeseen, waiting to be unveiled...
So many mysteries yet to be explained...

Stars, Moon and Sun - some entities known...
Do we even know how far our universe has grown?

How many planets, how many galaxies...
Are really there in this universe???

How massive is a Blackhole,
Who can give me these answers??

How did it really start, how will it all end...
Why do we exist, who can solve these doubts my friend?

Existence of dark matter or even dark energy,
Presence of water, presence of gravity, is there a unifying force
Scientists around the world are solving the mystery...
We also look around and wonder, where is the source ...

Are we the only one, in this cosmos?
Or life exists in another planet,
Who are they, where are they,
All the secrets are shrouded under a blanket...

Golf Article

ANITYA'S TIP OF THE MONTH

Staying with the three most important basics of grip, posture and alignment, let's have a look at how you can align well and develop a good alignment system that allows you to do that as a matter of habit.

In golf, we always align the club face at the target and our body parallel or left of the target (for a right handed golfer). Imagine a railway track as shown in the picture by the two lines on the ground. Now, you have to place your club face behind the ball on the outer track which is going straight to the flag, whereas the feet, knees, hips and shoulders are all aligned parallel to this line and are on the inside track.

This outer track is also known as the ball to target line. Your intention is to make a swing and hit ball over the target line straight to your target. This is achieved by having the club face aiming down this line to the target and your body slightly left of this line.

When viewed from behind, a right-handed golfer will appear aimed slightly left of the target. This optical illusion is created because the ball is on the target line and the body is not. When you practice, placing a club or a shaft or an alignment stick on the ground is a great way to ensure that you are aligned correctly to your target. Golf is a target sport and a good golfer is like an ace shooter – taking dead aim before you pull the trigger!
